

ABOUT US

A dedicated employment law practice located in York. We deliver commercially savvy legal advice and support for employers, senior executives and HR teams, together with bespoke employment law training.

“The quality and responsiveness of the advice was what I’d have expected from a national firm, but I’m pleased to say that it came with a Yorkshire price tag!”

Nick Rust, CEO, British Horseracing Authority

It pays to strengthen your position with our specialist employment law team

For all of the employment challenges and changes you’re facing, take advantage of our retained services or more ad hoc support. Where there are options, you’ll know about them and, as well as supporting you to understand the potential fall out of different actions, we’ll tell you what we would do in your position.
